What we discussed:

- Mrs Deamer asked and answered some points from our last meeting:
 1. Hopefully some clubs will start soon after Easter.
 2. Are all classes now having a chance to do the daily mile?
Everybody said that they were getting lots of daily mile time.
- We had a discussion based around Mr Raraty's task to children to think about what their ideal school looked like.
- Kookaburras-Would like a choosing club and a football club and would also like a fairground.
- Kingfishers-Thought an Easter Egg hunt would be fun. They would also like more bins in the playground and more clubs.
- Toucans-Were excited by the idea of different science clubs because they find science really fun.
- Parrots- were interested in the idea of class pets, they thought this would be a better idea than a zoo or farm as the class could look after the pet in the holidays and weekends.
- Penguins- This class really love art and talked about how they would love to do more art at school and maybe even have an art studio.
- Swans- This class had compiled a huge wish list including, a petting zoo, zip wire, trampolines, more picnic tables in the playground, bean bags in the library, a healthy tuck stall and a 'yes day' where everyone in the school has to say yes to everything.
- Flamingoes- Would like to make core value posters to go in the display case in front of the school. They felt it would be a great way of introducing our core values to visitors. They also really enjoyed Mr Raraty's photography challenge and would like a photography club.
- Puffins-Would like a candy floss machine in the playground.
- Owls- Are looking forward to a time when we can have a cookery club again.

- We then had a general discussion thinking about how some ideas might or might not work.
- Another idea came out of these discussions: The children discussed how they really wanted to see other people in the school both children and adults. They understood that bubbles could not be mixed up and looked forward to a time when things get back to normal. The older children explained to Year One that we used to see each other in the playground and in assemblies. They wondered if different teachers could come and teach some different lessons to them. At first this could be on google classrooms and then in real life. They wanted lessons on things that are not always taught in school and decided it would be really interesting if the teachers could introduce their hobbies in lessons.
- The children also wanted to celebrate the adults in the school and wondered if there could be a teacher of the week.

Any action to be taken:

Mrs Deamer to give the minutes of the meeting to Mr Raraty and the other teachers.
